from thirty to eighty five feet thick and from seventy five to three hundred feet high. Builded upon these walls were low towers, facing each other, and in these walls were a hundred brazen gates, the gates forresponding to each street. The city was surrounded by a deep most fifled with water, which served as additional protection against attack. Inside the walls were splendid paiaces. The city was not only noted for its wealth, but also for its moral degredation. It was given over to idolatry and iniquity. It was called "The Golden City, the Glory of the Kingdoms and the Beauty of the Chaldees," After the long and successful reign of Nebuchadnezzar, his son, Belshazzar, succeeded him. who was a profane and wicked ruler. Bel-buzzar and his princesses and associates, together with prostitute women, were holding a feast in the city. While the Babylomans were drunk and oblivious to their impending danger, Cyrus had dog a: ditch, burning the Euphraies out of its course and then led the Persona-Arms, under the gates on the dry hedof the Euphrales and sacked the city completely destroying it.

The whole mafter is recorded in Holy Writ for the purpose of should live at the close of the Cospel Age, where we now are. The Prophets Isaiah, Jeremiah, Daniel, and the Book of Revelations speak of Babylon, her degredation, her fall and destruction. The prophecies having been written after fall of literal Babylon manifestly refers to the autitype. In symbolcivil power and influence.

He said that shall be a world w.r., and famines and pestilences, earth quakes (Revolutions) in various places, and then should come these persecutions by the Babylonish systems. We are now in that time; the doors of Babylon is sealed, her fall is impending and near at hand. When the Church systems are dashed to pieces by the sledge hammers of truth and the people are liberated from her bondages and the greater light of the touth which is now due shine in upon them and they fully realize that the old order of things are passing away because he world has ended. then they will realize that the times of blessings are here, and millions now living and walking about upon earth will never die and go into the grave because Christ's Kingdom will soon be inaugurated, offering life, liberty and happiness to all who renfer themselves obedient to the terms of this Govednment which is now in process of establishment.
